Industry Notice: Department On-Line License Search Capabilities to Change

Twenty-six years later the time has come to retire the agency's legacy licensing data base system known as LCS. This system, among numerous other functions, provides the data the agency's website uses to drive its license search tool (<https://azliquor.gov/query/query.cfm>). As with any change in major technology, it is customary that change comes too to ancillary systems that derive value from it. So will be the case for this agency's website license search tool.

The very good news is, all but one searchable field is expected to survive at transition, and what were previously two independent search criteria will become one. In short, under the Non-Active Licenses header of the search webpage, the Suspended Licenses search link will end, and the Surrendered and Terminated search criteria will blend into a new field titled, Cancelled.

Of those search criteria that survive, full impacts to them are not wholly known and cannot be explored until after the agency cuts over. What is known is, the new system's data base to search will hold scant information. At Go-Live, the new system will only contain active license data, in-process applications and amendments, in-process investigations and in-process and outstanding compliance matters. As for the quality of the data, what is anticipated is that some data may show in incorrect fields, or some fields will show nonsensical data. Both can and will be fixed if they surface. Now in the end, the basic genesis of what is reported in each searchable area today will remain the same. For clarification, the searches expected to survive are:

License Number	Deliverable Location – Pending	Active Licenses by Zip Code
License Type	Pending App and Interim Permits	Expired Licenses

The planned date for the transition is:

- Old System retire – Friday, February 23, 2018 at 8:00 AM
- New System Activation – Monday, February 26, 2018 at 8:00 AM
- Restore of outlined License Search functionality – Unknown, but is a top agency priority.

The Department of Liquor appreciates your patience and understanding as it goes through this transition period.

The reward on the backend is the agency is bringing to the airways a new computer system that will allow prospective and existing clients the ability to complete many of their existing licensing functions on-line, from the comfort of wherever the internet allows a person to travel. Look for notices on the public release of the system to come sometime in the Summer 2018.

Respectfully,

Jeffery Trillo,
Assistant Director of Licensing and Administration
